PLEASE READ AND SIGN THE CONDITIONS BELOW

I wish to lodge a central entry bond. I understand that in line with the ABCRA Rule CER.1 that if my ABCRA membership has not been renewed for three (3) consecutive years, and I have not previously withdrawn my bond, I will forfeit this bond to ABCRA. I will not have any further entitlement to this bond.

Any member entering an open or novice event through Central Entry must have a deposit of $100 in credit with Central Entry or have their entry fees paid to Head Office before 12 midday on cancel out day, otherwise they will not be included in the draw.

Members can submit this $100 at anytime to Head Office only to make sure that their entry will be accepted. When submitting the $100 to Head Office members must include their name and membership number. The $100 bond must stay within the system for a minimum of three (3) months. If membership has not been renewed for three (3) consecutive years, and the member has not previously withdrawn the bond, the member will forfeit this bond to the ABCRA.

Should a competitor fail to pay their competition fees at an event, they shall have their Central Entry Bond forfeited. The member will also be fined the sum of $50. The member will also be required thereafter to pay their competitor fees up front for three months after the failure to pay their event fees. Consequent to this three months passing, the member will be required to deposit a further $100 bond on each occasion they have infringed. (ie. First failure bond becomes $200, second failure $300 and so on.)

Turnout fines will be deducted from the member's $100 credit balance which must be brought back to the $100 or no further entries will be taken.
